SAINT ATHANASIUS

Sixth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Today we hear once again of the deep connection between Jesus and Israel's prophets. In the reading from Jeremiah, God's curses at the opening are counterbalanced by God's blessings in the second part. In Luke's version of the Beatitudes, Jesus begins with blessings, then counterbalances with a "woe" section. The point is clear: the way we live our lives has a direct connection to whether we will experience curses and woes, or blessings instead. Of course, being among God's blessed ones (in Latin, beati, from which "beatitudes" comes) doesn't necessarily mean a life free of woe. Jesus, in his fully human nature, knew this. He also knew that when we seek happiness through our own devices, and trust only in ourselves, the woes are guaranteed to come. Let us follow the wisdom of Jeremiah and Jesus, along with the opening of the book of Psalms (echoed by Jeremiah today): "blessed are the ones who trust in the Lord."

I DON'T KNOW

There are times when the smartest, but most difficult, thing we can say is, "I don't know." While we often think of this as a sign of weakness, the amount of humility it takes to say this means that the word of God is alive and well in us. To say "I don't know" means that we look outside of ourselves to learn, and to find those who do know, and—ultimately—accept that we have to look to others and to God to help us, to guide us through life. To place our trust and hope only in this world, Paul tells the Corinthians (and us!), makes us people to be pitied. Jesus echoes this in the "woes" section of Luke's Beatitudes, when he points out that trusting in earthly wealth, full bellies, entertainments, and reputation will, eventually, not be enough when we are called beyond this life.

LOOK 'EM IN THE EYE

Prior to delivering the blessings and woes of his "Sermon on the Plain" in Luke, Jesus had been on top of a mountain in prayer, after which he selected the Twelve to go on his mission with him. Coming down from the mountain, the first thing Jesus does is show them what is at the heart of his—and their—mission: preaching to the multitude, healing all who were in need of it, no matter where they had come from. Luke then carefully notes that Jesus raises his eyes, not to look toward heaven again in prayer, but he raises his eyes to look directly at his disciples, to share the message of blessings and woes. This scene echoes Moses coming down from the mountain to give Israel its command as to how they should live in God's covenant. As followers of Jesus today, we are called to live out his mission to the world, while we also look beyond this world to trust in God, our only hope.

Sexto Domingo del Tiempo Ordinario

Hoy volvemos a escuchar la profunda conexión entre Jesús y los profetas de Israel. En la lectura de Jeremías, las maldiciones de Dios al principio se compensan con las bendiciones de Dios en la segunda parte. En la versión de Lucas de las Bienaventuranzas, Jesús comienza con bendiciones, y luego las contrarresta con una sección de “ayes”. El punto es claro: la forma en que vivimos nuestras vidas tiene una conexión directa con el hecho de que experimentaremos maldiciones y ayes, o en cambio, bendiciones. Por supuesto, estar entre los benditos de Dios (en latín, beati, de donde viene “beatitudes”) no significa necesariamente una vida libre de aflicciones. Jesús, en su naturaleza plenamente humana, lo sabía. También sabía que cuando buscamos la felicidad a través de nuestros propios recursos, y confiamos sólo en nosotros mismos, las desgracias están garantizadas. Sigamos la sabiduría de Jeremías y de Jesús con el comienzo del libro de los Salmos (del que se hace eco Jeremías hoy): “Bienaventurados los que confían en el Señor”.

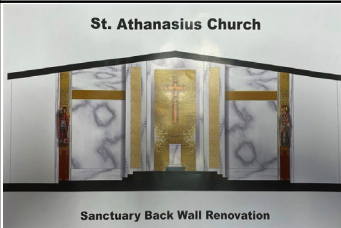

NO LO SÉ

Hay veces que lo más inteligente, pero lo más difícil, que podemos decir es: “No sé”. Aunque a menudo pensamos que esto es un signo de debilidad, la cantidad de humildad que se necesita para que decir esto significa que la Palabra de Dios está viva y bien en nosotros. Decir “no sé” significa que buscamos fuera de nosotros mismos para aprender, y encontrar a los que sí saben, y –en última instancia– aceptar que tenemos que mirar a los demás y a Dios para que nos ayuden, para que nos guíen por la vida. Poner nuestra confianza y esperanza sólo en este mundo, dice Pablo a los corintios (y a nosotros), nos convierte en personas dignas de lástima. Jesús se hace eco de esta idea en la sección de “ayes” de las Bienaventuranzas de Lucas, cuando señala que confiar en las riquezas terrenales, en las barrigas llenas, en los entretenimientos y en la reputación, finalmente no será suficiente cuando seamos llamados más allá de esta vida.

MÍRALOS A LOS OJOS

Antes de pronunciar las bendiciones y los males de su “Sermón del llano” en Lucas, Jesús había estado en la cima de una montaña en oración, tras lo cual seleccionó a los Doce para que fueran con él en su misión. Al bajar de la montaña, lo primero que hace Jesús es mostrarles lo que es el corazón de sumisión –y de la de ellos– predicar a la multitud, curando a todos los que lo necesitaban, sin importa de dónde vinieran. A continuación, Lucas señala cuidadosamente que Jesús levanta los ojos para mirar directamente a sus discípulos, para compartir el mensaje de bendiciones y males. Esta escena es un eco de Moisés bajando de la montaña para dar a Israel su mando sobre cómo deben vivir en la alianza de Dios. Como seguidores de Jesús en la actualidad, estamos llamados a vivir su misión en el mundo, al tiempo que miramos más allá de este mundo para confiar en Dios, nuestra única esperanza.

Brothers and Sisters in the Diocese of San José,

Since the time of Adam and Eve, suffering has been part of the human experience. The pandemic has certainly added a great deal of suffering worldwide. As we understand in our faith, suffering will never be eliminated completely until Jesus Christ returns; however, we are called to mitigate unnecessary suffering where possible. Thus, we live with a certain amount of discomfort and inconvenience, but always with the joy and hope that we are in solidarity with each other and with Christ's suffering and caring for with most vulnerable among us.

Public health experts have been preparing the public for the endemic phase of the Covid-19 disease. With an endemic disease, the virus remains present at a lower level of infection as the population gains greater immunity. Thus, we integrate the health risks of Covid-19 into our life calculations.

Thank goodness, more than 80% of residents of Santa Clara County have been fully vaccinated against COVID-19. With these improving circumstances, therefore, effective March 6, 2022, the First Sunday of Lent, the dispensation of the Sunday and Holy Day obligation will conclude for all Catholics within the Diocese of San José. The faithful who are healthy and without significant risk factors or other serious reasons should fulfill these obligations joyfully and conscientiously, continuing to abide by safety protocols.

At the same time, I remind everyone that the Church has always provided exceptions to the Sunday and Holy Day obligation. Anyone with a "serious reason" or "grave cause" is excused from the obligation. In the case of this pandemic, "serious reason" and "grave cause" would include: anyone who is sick, symptomatic, or tested positive for or has been recently exposed to COVID; anyone who is confined to their home, a hospital, or nursing facility; anyone caring for someone who is ill or immunocompromised; or being at high-risk for contracting COVID-19 (Canon 1245; CCC 2181). Catholics are encouraged to consult with their pastor if they are unsure about their personal situation.

Anyone who isn't able to go to Mass should continue to keep the Lord's Day holy with intentional time in prayer, including engagement in the readings for the day, which may be enhanced through watching a pre-recorded or livestreamed Mass and making a spiritual communion.

Regarding the importance of Sunday worship, the Catechism states: "The celebration of Sunday observes the moral commandment inscribed by nature in the human heart to render to God an outward, visible, public, and regular worship 'as a sign of his universal beneficence to all.' Sunday worship fulfills the moral command of the Old Covenant, taking up its rhythm and spirit in the weekly celebration of the Creator and Redeemer of his people" (CCC 2176).

I invite those of us who are able to return safely to participate in the Sunday Eucharist in their parish. Let us continue to make the Lord's Day a true celebration of thanksgiving for God's love, mercy, and redemption.

I am grateful to everyone who has worked so hard to keep our parishes and schools running so that our mission could continue. Despite the challenges and darkness of this pandemic, we continue to bring the light of Christ to others as seen in our liturgies, visits to the homebound, prayer groups, faith formation, adoration, and much more. Thank you to all the volunteers, staff, and clergy who have creatively nurtured our parish and school communities!

Be ensured of my prayers,

Most Reverend Oscar Cantú
Bishop of San José
